Sigurd Ulland of the Lake Tahoe Ski Club, unassuming champion, who thrilled a crowd of 6,000 at Leavenworth, Washington on February 6, with his spectacular jumps of 230 and 233 feet that won Class A honors for his club, was in Truckee Monday from where he planned to leave on a truck to Reno.

From there he took the streamliner to Vermont for the next meet to be held on February 22 and later to Lake Placid for further honors and then the Eastern ski championships.

Ulland went into his home at Tahoe on skis on Thursday, seven hours being consumed on the trip. He left there in company with Carl Bechdolt, Jr., David Renner and Leo Miner on Friday afternoon and arrived in Truckee Saturday, the trek taking the able skiers 11 hours to complete.

Reports From All Centers At Lake Favorable As Storm Over

PLANE DROPS SUPPLIES

All Staple Foods Plentiful As Untrue Report Is Broadcast

Untrue and highly exaggerated reports from a Tahoe correspondent to a San Francisco newspaper Wednesday resulted in a special TWA airplane being dispatched from San Francisco to Tahoe City with 500 pounds of provisions. The food was dropped on the golf course at Tahoe and reports here this morning said a couple of turnips were pulled from the drifts.

The gesture may have brought a lot of publicity to the area, but not the kind of publicity that would prompt people to make their homes there.

As a matter of fact, The Sierra Sun Wednesday contacted nearly all points, many of which have been in partial isolation for days and found conditions around the lake far from serious. Naturally everyone virtually was out of fresh eggs, milk, vegetables and fruit, but all reported ample supplies of staple groceries. Emerald Bay, one of the most isolated points, reported jokingly that the only mishap there was the fact that a puppy had suffered a broken tail.

Tallac, Glenbrook, Brockway and other centers all offered the same condition.

No where were we able to discover anyone in need. Children were recovering from mild cases of whooping cough, the one or two others who had been on the sick list last week were recovering nicely and everything with the exception of the enforced isolation, everyone we contacted was in good spirits.

All are anxiously awaiting the opening of the roads, but according to all available reports supplies during winter months have never been more plentiful.

HOBERT HAS FUN IN SPITE OF STORM AS SOCIAL IS HELD

The residents of Hobart Mills are having their troubles as a result of the severe storms, but through it all are having a good time.

Despite being snowed in and without lights, the residents got together on Saturday night at the pool hall for a social time. Some played pool and other played cards and visited. A light lunch was served at midnight and a pleasant evening reported.

Hobart folks got their first fresh meat for two weeks last Saturday when the mail carriers took in about eight pounds and divided it among the families there.

The town was without lights or power from Wednesday night until Sunday evening when the trouble was located. The families were glad to be able to operate radios and have lights again.

Freak Of Nature Occurs As No New Moon For Month of February

A peculiarity of nature that will happen this month and will not be repeated again for 71 years, according to authorities on the subject, is the fact that there will be no new moon during the month of February.

The regulation number of new moons are scheduled, two having occurred in January, on the 1st and 31st and on the 2nd and 31st of March the moon will again renew itself.

Plans Made To Accomodate Big Crowd Sunday

Excursions Expected To Tax Capacity of Town On Holiday

Plans are hopefully going forward here for the reception of hundreds of excursionist expected to arrive in Truckee for the week end and holiday.

While the ice rink is buried under several feet of snow and hopelessly abandoned for this season because of the lack of funds to clear it, skiing should be excellent for the visitors.

Aside from the regular trains the Southern Pacific has scheduled, word from San Francisco is to the effect that several parties, including the Richmond Y. M. I. and Y. L. I., the South of Market club and others will invade Truckee for their annual frolic. It is also believed the Southern Pacific Company's office employees, who were disappointed in their trip to Truckee two weeks ago, will come Sunday.

The crowd is expected to tax the capacity of the town's facilities if weather conditions remain favorable.

Forest Service May Give Aid To Local Plan

Program To Be Presented To Service After Offer Made

Early during the coming summer a definite winter sports area for this immediate region will be planned and presented to the U. S. Forest Service for its consideration in a proposal to establish a camp of relief workers to aid in erecting the facilities.

This action was promised by C. Edmunds, local winter sports manager at a meeting of the Truckee Chamber of Commerce Monday when Ranger H. I. Snider agreed to support such a plan with other forest service officials.

Snider pointed out the requirement before a program can be considered and asked that the details of the local plan be submitted at once.

Daughter of Truckee Woman Loses Roof Of Home in Big Storm

Mrs. Thomas Rogers who had the experience of having the roof of her home in Newcastle blown off during the recent windstorm that swept the valley, is visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. Sam Costa.

Mrs. Rogers said there were three feet of water in her living room and it has been raining for several days since she left. Her furniture was completely drenched before it was moved to dry quarters.

Crews Battle Drifts To Open Donner Summit For Light Traffic

With highways being opened and travel again becoming possible after one of the heaviest snow storms on record in this area, Truckee and the surrounding districts this week was visited by an intense cold wave that sent thermometers down to as low as 15 below zero.

Between 11 p. m. January 30 and 11 p. m. February 14, a period of 15 days of almost continuous storms the local forest service measurements recorded a total fall of 204 inches or 17 feet of snow at Truckee.

That snow contained 15.63 inches of moisture. The greatest depth recorded was eight feet at 6 p. m. on February 11 and again at 9 a. m. on February 14.

This exceeds any previous record for a 15-day period of snowfall ever recorded in Truckee.

Total precipitation at Truckee since September 1 now totals 32.26 inches or 15.67 inches above normal. Total precipitation for February has already been exceeded by 10.49 inches.

Norden reported a record pack of 19 feet, six inches at the end of the storm, while Tahoe recorded 13 feet. Highways were blocked for nearly ten days as crews battled desperately to keep the road open.

This morning the Donner Summit highway was opened to light traffic under control, convoys leaving Truckee and Baxters every two hours, passing at Soda Springs.

One of the big plows was taken off the summit road yesterday and sent on the Tahoe road. The crew had reached a point three and a half miles from the Wye this morning.

It is expected the road to Tahoe City will be open by tomorrow night.

Telephone and light service that was damaged by the recent heavy storms on the west side of the summit was rapidly being repaired and service today was near normal.

A crew of men from the Sierra Pacific Power Company after several days located trouble which had left one or two communities north of here in temporary darkness.

The Southern Pacific experienced its first major trouble Sunday when three rotaries were stalled near the summit, paralyzing traffic for 12 hours. Traffic has resumed normal again this week.

The road to Reno was reported in fair condition.

SPORTSMEN APPEAL TO DIVISION FOR DEER PROTECTION

Truckee sportsmen are appealing to state fish and game officials to protect herds of deer stranded in the deep snow at Boca, Floriston and near Hobart Mills.

Driven to the edge of civilization, the deer have been cared for by a number of sources, but coyotes are said to be invading the herds and outlaw hunters are reported seen in the vicinity. Officials of the division have been advised and asked to offer protection.

FIREMEN WILL MEET AT BESIO'S TONIGHT

OUR UTILITY DISTRICT

The annual report of the manager of the Truckee Public Utility District, filed recently, proves that if ever an organization justified its being it is our home-owned and operated district.

This proof was more than substantiated during the past two weeks when Truckee was one of the few communities to enjoy virtually uninterrupted light and power services.

Last year we heard rumors that the equipment of the district was in a deplorable condition, that poles and lines were permitted to deteriorate without repair or replacement. We know now that these rumors were untrue. During the severe storms the equipment withstood the most rigid tests it was possible to give and where other communities served by major utilities were in darkness Truckee enjoyed lights and power without a single bit of local trouble. While our source of supply was responsible for the delivery of power to Truckee this would have meant nothing had our local system failed. We should be proud of our district and refrain from unjust criticism of its operation and maintenance.

A glance at the annual report shows the healthy financial condition of the district. Not only have depreciation costs been met as the demand was made, but a $1000 depreciation fund as well as a $1300 reserve fund set up. And on top of these amounts an increase of $1500 in cash on hand is reported for the past year's operation. But for the high cost of wholesale power, the district would be operating with a splendid profit. Our rates are lower here than elsewhere and we have the satisfaction of knowing that any profits or benefits derived will be returned directly to the consumers.

AN OFFER OF AID

In event Truckee, as a community and the Truckee Outing Club, as a responsible organization, can present a comprehensive program, outlining their desires and qualification to carry on what may be started, then the Forest Service will give consideration to the establishment of a camp here for the development of a Winter Sports area.

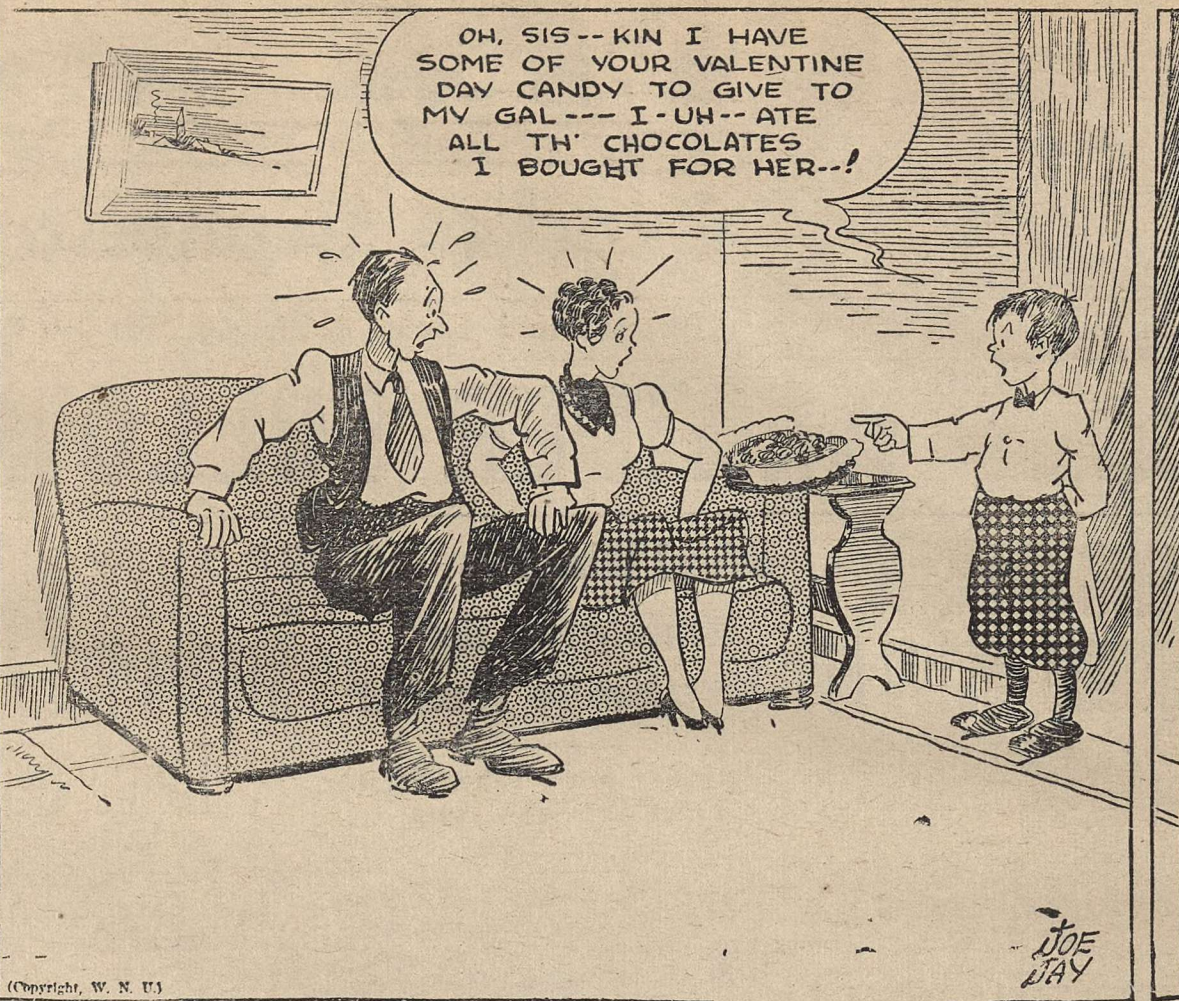

This promising report was made at a meeting of the local Chamber of Commerce this week by Ranger H. I. Snider.

The local ranger made the statement in answer to questions as to why Truckee has been neglected by the Service in its snow sports development program.

This report was promised for early this year and it may mean definitely the future for Winter Sports here, so to top the tentative promise it behooves us to "pull strings" with every known agency and see that the vague promise becomes a reality.

We are going to need all the help we can get. If you want to aid the cause along talk it up—keep boosting Truckee as the desirable Winter Sports center that it is. Don't permit the ball to stop rolling. If we can have the assurance of this federal aid we can really accomplish things, but without help of some kind, federal or otherwise, we may as well give up in despair.

Leave It to the Young Brother!

Politically Speaking

By Jack Welter
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 17.—(UP)—Refinancing $63,000,000 of San Francisco-Oakland bay bridge bonds and laying the groundwork for issuing $10,000,000 more has become a political campaign issue and a job which has the administration jittery.

It's a job of course, for the toll bridge authority, but Governor Frank F. Merriam is a member of the authority and any action of that body, should it be unpopular, will catch the administration on the rebound during the forthcoming campaign.

In addition to this Lieutenant Governor George J. Hatfield and State Senator Culbert L. Olson of Los Angeles evidently are ready and willing to make campaign capital of the matter.

Olson already has unwound a few thrusts at Merriam on the matter of bridge financing and the proposed ferry purchase, while Hatfield—who may line up against the governor for the Republican nomination in August—is in a good spot to capitalize on any Merriam errors in judgment.

There are also other important considerations involved.

The Golden Gate International Exposition people, for example, are anxious to get a deal okayed and the bridge rail facilities completed. They expect 70,000 visitors each day when their big show gets under way. They want all the ferries they can get released to handle this traffic, three quarters of which is expected to travel to Treasure Island by boat.

It has been pointed out, logically enough, that if the interurban facilities aren't ready by exposition time, the ferries will have a tough time running regular schedules for the bay region's 45,000 commuters and nearly twice that many additional fair visitors.

With the commuters taken care of, the exposition schedule should be taken care of without difficulty.

With this group and others demanding speed, there also are some asking that the brakes be applied and a better deal negotiated. The matter must be handled expeditiously however, because funds available for bridge rail work are all but gone now.

The bridge refinancing problem sent State Engineer Charles H. Purcell and Florence M. McAuliffe, attorney for the authority, to Washington to talk terms with Reconstruction Finance Corporation officials.

The returned with a tentative agreement calling for a four per cent interest rate on $33,000,000 worth of the bonds and a 4.25 per cent rate on the remaining $40,000,000. The bonds would be retired in slightly less than 40 years and tolls would not be reduced below 40 cents.

Among those attacking this proposal was Fred Reed of Oakland, identified with interests fighting to permit bus line operators across the span. Reed challenged the McAuliffe-Purcell financing plan on the ground that it would keep tolls too high and that the interest rate was excessive.

He asked Governor Merriam to include in his special session call a legislation bill empowering the authority to float $73,000,000 in 3 per cent, 50 year revenue bonds, backed by the northern California's gas tax reserves. This would permit a 25 cent toll and save the state a huge sum in interest charges, he contended.

Advocates of refinancing with the RFC scoffed at Reed's suggestion.

declaring that it is basically unsound because no bond houses would take the issue unless the gas tax guarantee was effected through constitutional amendment. This legislature could approve the system and the next one throw it overboard, they pointed out.

They also pointed out that another fly in the ointment would be the old north-south conflict. In this case, as one spokesman put it, southern California legislators probably would demand that the state help out on their huge aqueduct in return for

RANGER WARNS AGAINST DANGERS OF FATAL GAS CREATED WHILE DRIVING

Recent tests made by Federal Health Department officials at a few of their cooperative testing stations in the U. S. Forest Service pickup trucks reveals the presence of carbon monoxide gas may be the cause for some of the numerous wrecks on U. S. Highway No. 40, according to Ranger H. I. Snider of Truckee.

The results of the tests showed 45 parts per million of monoxide gas in a closed cab of a 1937 model pickup. Health officers state 90 parts per million is sufficient to kill a person in one hour.

Drivers of wrecked cars are often found in a state of stupor, being neither drunk nor influenced by the shock. As the health officers explained, carbon monoxide had saturated the blood stream without warning and the driver had gradually become unconscious. Had a door or window been thrown open by wrecking the car, it is quite likely death would occur in many more cases than they actually do.

It takes over half an hour to get carbon gas out of a car after windows have been opened.

It should be emphasized, Snider said, that in case of continuous long drives with windows of the cab being closed or in the case of a breakdown where the engine is kept running to keep occupants warm, particular care must be taken since the carbon monoxide gas is odorless and gives no warning.

The following instructions were written by Ranger Snider for fire patrolmen and others using pickup trucks which is well worth keeping in mind in suspected cases of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Symptoms: Dizziness, nausea, weariness, ringing in ears, fluttering of

This Week At The State Capitol

By JOHN ABBOTT
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 17.—(UP)—Assemblyman Samuel W. Yorty of Los Angeles, friend of labor and a member of the lower house progressive bloc, charged State Director of Agriculture A. A. Brock with acting "entirely in the interest of large milk distributing companies" in establishing milk price minima for various marketing areas.

Yorty presented his complaint in a letter to Governor Frank F. Merriam.

The Los Angeles assemblyman, a relative newcomer to the legislature, protested recent price increases to consumers. He urged that revision of milk control statutes be made of the program for the proposed special session of the legislature.

"The so-called Desmond Milk Act which was passed at the last session of the legislature and approved by you was conceived by and for these large milk distributors," Yorty wrote. "It was they who lobbied the bill through the legislature."

Yorty said, in fairness he would have to admit that "Herbert C. Legg, vice chairman of the Democratic state central committee and Democratic candidate for governor was

POWER SERVICE IS RESTORED AT LAKE BY OTTO DARLIN

TAHOE CITY, Feb. 17.—Otto Darlin, Tahoe electrician, returned home from an eventful trip to Auburn this week just in time to be of great service to his neighbors.

The power lines there had been down between Tahoe City and points south. Darlin an experienced electrician donned the skis on which he just completed round trip to Truckee and set out to make the repair. The trouble was soon located and darkness which had prevailed for two days and nights was turned to light much to the relief of the patrons.

Darlin skied to Truckee last week and took the train to Auburn. The trip in was made in good time but the return was marked with difficulty. He left Truckee early Saturday morning and at nightfall had succeeded only in reaching Denville. He stayed there overnight and the next morning continued, reaching his home in Tahoe Pines late the following night. He said he encountered drifts 30 feet deep.

MINOR ILLNESSES ADD TO DISCOMFORT OF TAHOE FOLKS

TAHOE CITY, Feb. 17.—With a full 13 feet of snow on the level and with drifts measuring up to 20 feet deep, residents of the Lake Tahoe district Tuesday enjoyed the respite in the record breaking snow storm which swept the region for nearly three weeks, isolating many districts entirely and hampering communication to all points about the lake.

Transportation was reduced to ski snowshoes and boat. Food of staple nature was holding up well, although no fresh meat, milk and vegetables were depleted several days ago.

No hardships were reported, but most residents were inconvenienced. Telephone and power service was uncertain and enjoyed intermittently.

MAIL, PROVISIONS DISTRIBUTED WITH BOAT AT TAHOE

TAHOE CITY, Feb. 17.—With all other means of transportation impossible, Constable Harry Johanson and Bud Slater have been enjoying the distinction of being the most popular men at Tahoe, when they used the Slater's big outboard motor boat to distribute supplies to residents along the lake shore from Tahoe City.

The two men make trips whenever possible, keeping many of the caretakers and other residents well supplied with provisions.

Johanson reported that he is holding Medicine is being supplied by D. M. Brodehl, operator of the mail boat.

PARK ADDITION BILL GOES TO PRESIDENT FOR HIS APPROVAL

The White House now has the decision as to whether or not the lands will be purchased on the east side of Lake Tahoe for addition to the Tahoe National Forest in Nevada. The bill was passed on Thursday last authorizing an appropriation of $325,000 for the purpose.

The agriculture department reported that although the bill would authorize the purchase of approximately 100,000 acres, probably only 60,000 acres would be acquired. One tract of 40,000 acres, it was said, was sold recently to an individual from whom it probably could not be bought "at anywhere near" a reasonable price.

Included in the proposed purchase the department said, were lands that would give the park 12 to 15 miles of lake frontage.

one of the more important persons lobbying for the bill.

In Los Angeles, Yorty asserted, the result was an increase in the price of "70 per cent of the milk sold to consumers about one cent a quart and a decrease in the price paid by distributors to producers."

The governor, enroute to Southern California for the Republican Assembly at Riverside and a personal survey into vice conditions in Los Angeles, was not available for comment.

While two legislative committees clamored for a total of $85,000 to continue their investigations on the same subject, Merriam said he would come to no decision until his study was completed.

To Los Angeles newspapermen the governor said six bills are in preparation for action at the proposed special session of the legislature to be held about March 1.

The questions under consideration Merriam said, were:

Legislation to enable California's participation in the Federal Housing Program, extension of the state's 19 year tax payment plan, oil legislation validation of school bonds, a bill to assist fruit growers in marketing operations and approval of charter amendments for several municipalities.

James E. Davis, district attorney for Siskiyou County, asked the state advisory board to recommend a commutation to life imprisonment for John and Coke Brito, sentenced to die on the Folsom gallows for the murder of three peace officers.

Davis, who disqualified himself as a prosecutor in the case, said there was ample reason for commutation.

The governor and Senator Ray J. Nielsen of Sacramento county under took a movement to secure more pay for the guards at California's two prisons, San Quentin and Folsom.

Nielsen informed the state board of prison directors it was his opinion the guards were poorly paid for the hazardous work in which they were engaged. He also believed the work day averaging nine to 10 hours was too long.

Reminding the board that the governor requested a salary survey, Nielsen recalled the chief executive vetoed measures to correct the hour sit-

Governor's Mansion 'Trapped' by Trees in Coastal Gale

More than 500 trees, some of them nearly 100 years old, were bowled over in Sacramento, Cal., as gales swept down the Central Valleys in the wake of weeklong rains and snows on the Pacific Coast. The photograph above shows a beautiful old cedar tree uprooted at the entrance to the state capitol. Damage to trees alone in the area was estimated at $200,000.

Good Lighting IS GOOD POLICY!

Better Light for Better Sight

IT IS good policy to check up on your lighting at least once a month. Replace lamp bulbs that have grown dim. Fill up the empty sockets and replace the small sized bulbs in floor and table lamps before headaches and eyestrain develop.

It is good policy, too, to see that the light on your porch or basement stairs is really good light. Most dangerous falls on stairs are caused by a misstep due to shadows and poor light. In the kitchen many cuts and burns might be avoided if just a little better light was by the kitchen sink or stove.

Good floor and table lamps today are inexpensively priced. Prices of lamp bulbs in sight-saving sizes are lower than ever and the reduced electric rates make better lighting a truly low cost monthly item. Check over the lighting in your home today.

TREE PLANTING PLANNED TO REPLACE FENCES IN SNOW AREAS ON ROADS

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 17.—(UP)—Mounting maintenance costs on snow fencing have forced the state division of highways in districts where heavy snow fall demands it, to undertake a program of tree planting which in time will form a natural fence.

District two with headquarters at Redding, placed 57,000 feet of map made fencing in its territory this year. Wind and snow weight, stock fire and depreciation took their toll. In its experimental planting the division used several species of pine and two of cedar. Pines were Jeffrey Coulter, Austrian, Scotch and Stone. Both cedars were natives in the region.

Use of the several pine varieties is to determine which of those that are cold and drought resistant and rapid growers will do best where short hard winters and long dry summers are normal weather conditions.
